Your focus:

We are expanding rapidly and hence, we are seeking new and hands-on team members who think outside of the box (and are not afraid to share their thoughts), will deliver unique ideas and like to work in a fast-paced environment. Your mission As a iOS Developer at Bovicom, you will work on the development of our native iOS app. Alongside hands-on feature development, you will work on new tools, techniques and take care of the whole application lifecycle.

- Technically design, build and maintain advanced applications & features for the iOS platform
- Extensive testing of code, to ensure adherence to functional requirements and maintain quality
- Collaborate with cross-functional teams, designers and technical product owners
- Communicating to stakeholders, including executives, about app-development progress

Your skills:

- iOS development knowledge (Swift, Objective-C, XCode, etc.).
- Developing an app according to requirements and specs.
- Implementing new technologies and methodologies to maximize development efficiency.
- Excellent communication and decision-making skills.
- A track record of releasing high-quality apps and services.
- Knowledge of concepts behind Rest API and how to implement it.
- Strong UI/UX & design orientation
- Well-versed in version control
