Korte beschrijving van de opdracht:

ARDIS® is the machine independent global market leader for optimization & manufacturing software. Our cutting-edge software offers a modular all-in-one platform specifically designed and built for the sheet/bar/coil cutting industry.

The student will become part of our R&D team to work on our rapidly growing MES solution. The ARDIS R&D team is a passionate team with a broad mix of talents and skills, supporting personal growth and ambition.

The various components and technologies used in the applications are subject to constant innovations. As migrating to the latest version of a component introduces regression risks, this is requires handling with care. The goal of this internship is to migrate the application to the latest technologies, perform an analysis of the impact in terms of regressions and performance, and resolving incompatibilities.
